

The Staff

James (Jim) R. Haddock is the principal of ABCS. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Muskingum University (New Concord, Ohio) and a Master of Science in School Administration from Dayton University (Dayton, Ohio). He has done certification and licensure studies at Kent State University, Youngstown State University (Ohio), Longwood University, University of Virginia, Virginia Baptist College (Virginia), and Pensacola Christian College (Florida). He retired from public education in 2011 after 41 ½ years. He served as a special education teacher (grades Pre-K through Community College), work-study coordinator, career specialist, elementary principal, and director of special education in schools in Ohio and Virginia. Jim began working on the establishment of a Christian school for Albemarle Baptist Church in 2009. Through the efforts of Pastor Deloach and other church members, ABCS opened her doors on September 6, 2011.

Jim was saved when he was 7 years old and confirmed his belief in Jesus Christ, his Lord and Savior, at the age of 12. Jim and his wife, Linda, have been active members of the various churches of which they have been a part in their 47 years of marriage. Both have served as Deacons and on the Session of Newell United Presbyterian Church (WV). Jim was a member of the Trustees, Deacons and Session of Riverside United Presbyterian Church (Ohio). For over 8 years he was the lay speaker and minister at Nessly Chapel United Methodist Church (WV). Linda and he have served as youth leaders and VBS teachers at churches and church camps in Pennsylvania, Indiana, West Virginia and Virginia. He served as a Sunday School teacher and supply minister for churches in West Virginia, Ohio, and Virginia. At ABC he has served as a substitute Sunday School teacher, VBS teacher, and Sunday School Superintendent. He preaches bi-monthly at a local nursing home.

Jim teaches grammar and literature, social studies, and upper level Bible and math courses.

Other Staff Members

Tina Deloach is the daughter of a pastor, wife of our pastor, and a sister of a pastor. She is active in all aspects of the church: sings in the church choir, teaches Sunday school and the Patch Club, serves as the leader of the women's fellowship, and many other areas. Tina is the Fine Arts Coordinator. She teaches art to all the students, elementary Bible and math, science, and physical education.

Tiffany King plays an extremely active role in the life of the church: children's bus ministry, children's church, Patch Club, church pianist, member of the choir, church secretary, and any other area where she is needed in the church. Tiffany has taught choir, Spanish, kindergarten classes and home economics.

Caren Herndon also takes a very active role in the life of the church. She is a helper in the Sunday school program and the Masters Club, sings in the choir, and serves as an aide in the children's bus ministry. Caren helps in many capacities of the school and is the lunchroom supervisor.

Marcus Deloach is the pastor of Albemarle Baptist Church. Pastor leads the weekly Chapel services. His biographical details can be viewed at: <http://abc.avenue.org/pastor.htm>.